Program Description for Faculty-Led Programs

Spanish Studies in Granada, Spain

Dr. Victoria Rodrigo

May 25- July 5, 2015

This program will take place in Spain: Madrid, Granada, Córdoba, and Seville. Students should expect some extremes temperatures because during the summer southern Spain can be extremely hot –temperatures can easily reach upwards of 100 degrees-, although at night it cools down. Air conditioning is uncommon in private homes and participants should not expect having air conditioning in their homes. Hotels will have air conditioning though. During the program there will be lots of walking (2-3 miles daily) in hot temperature. Also, participants will travel by plane, train, subway, and bus; they will have to carry their own luggage when travelling. There will be one bus ride to the mountains with a lot of curves.
